"MONEY GETTERS" SUBPOENAED BY PROBERS

NIGHT HAND MAN OF GOVERNOR COX GIVES LIST THOSE WHO KNOW FACTS

Edmund Moore Tells Committee Where to Get Inside Information.

McCLURE ADMITS THE BIG GEORGIA QUOTA
Says Money Wasn't Raised However, When Negro Made Lender.

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Charges made by Governor James M. Cox, presidential nominee, that the republicans are raising a $15,000,000 campaign fund are based upon official bulletins of the republican party and upon articles in republican newspapers, Edmund H. Moore, Gov. Cox's personal emissary, told the senate slush fund committee here today. "No evidence other than that which is contained in campaign documents of the republican party and which Governor Cox has for the most part already made public in the democratic nominee's possession, Moore said.

Moore admitted that he could only give "sources of information." Among these sources of information, which Moore is said to have revealed to the committee are twelve republican workers from various states whom Moore characterized as "important cogs in the money-getting machine." Subpoenas for these twelve were issued by the committee just before it convened today and it is expected that their testimony will follow that of Moore.

C. W. McClure, of Atlanta, while waiting to testify, said that shortly after the nomination of Senator Harding, C. W. Taylor came to Atlanta with credentials from Fred W. Upham for the purpose of raising a quota of $25,000 in Atlanta and a similar quota in the state of Georgia outside Atlanta. McClure said he had Taylor a list of names to see but that after interviewing a number of them Taylor found that the opposition in Georgia to the naming of J. Lincoln Johnson, the negro national committeeman was so great, that it was impossible to get subscriptions. Taylor, McClure said, then returned to Chicago.

McClure declared that prior to the republican convention, between $19,000 and $20,000 had been pledged in Georgia, $10,000 of which had been collected. He said Treasurer Upham's statement that only $3,000 had been collected was apparently a mistake.

"You were the pre-convention manager for Governor Cox," Senator Kenyon asked after Mr. Moore had been sworn.

"Yes," Moore replied.

"Since that time have you been connected with the Cox campaign?" was the next question.

"No more than any other man. I belong to no committee and I have taken no active part in the last campaign."

"Have you seen Gov. Cox's various charges against the Republican party?"

"If you mean the $15,000,000 fund, the assessed quota, the appointment of committees and the paid force of collectors, I have?"

"Do you know of any other charges," he was asked.

"That's all I know," Moore answered.

Moore said he had heard the Pittsburgh speech and had talked over the charges with Gov. Cox to a limited extent. He said he had been sent here by Gov. Cox, "to give this committee such information as I had."

"I wasn't present when the quotas were assessed or paid and can only give sources of my information," Moore explained.

TWELVE SUBPOENAED
CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Twelve men designated by Edmund H. Moore as professional money getters of the republican party were subpoenaed to testify at the senatorial "slush fund" hearing just before the investigating committee resumed its sessions here

ALABAMA MINERS WALK OUT TONIGHT

In the Meantime, Commission Named by Governor, Prepares for Action.

(International News Service)
BIRMINGHAM, Sept. 7.—Governor Kirby's coal commission, appointed to investigate and if possible arbitrate the strike situation in Alabama, will hold its first meeting in Birmingham late this afternoon.

Judge J. J. Mayfield, and Ex-Governor Charles Henderson are expected to arrive here from Tuscaloosa this afternoon and will open headquarters at once and begin a collection of data on the coal situation. Dr. George H. Denny, third member of the commission, will arrive in the next few days.

According to an announcement made by Dr. Denny over the telephone the two members of the commission reaching Birmingham this afternoon will have a formal statement to issue.

In the meantime, as the hour approaches for the strike to actually begin—midnight tonight—neither side showed signs of weakening. In some quarters there appeared to be some resentment towards the coal commission. However, it is thought that both sides will air their troubles freely when the commission holds its initial hearing this afternoon.

Already, miners are leaving the mines in large droves and according to miner's officials the strike will be highly effective by the time it is supposed to officially take place.

OFFICIALS HOPEFUL
(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Officials of the department of labor are confident that today will indicate whether the unauthorized strike in Pennsylvania is to continue or is to flicker out. With the holidays over, Hugh Kerwin of the department of conciliation was hopeful today that many of the miners who were on "vacation" last week will return to their work today, and that the strike will not endanger the anthracite coal supply.

INSURGENTS DETERMINED
WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 7.—Insurgent mine workers at a convention here today decided to continue their vacation indefinitely, to establish bureaus, send out missionaries, spread propaganda, and bring about a general tie-up of the hard coal industry.

The meeting was attended by 300 delegates and was a spirited one. Union leaders and the operators were bitterly scored and it was claimed that the insurgents are fighting a lone fight, but that their forces have withstood the first assaults and are intact.

NEW EQUIPMENT FOR P. O.
A large cancelling machine to be operated by electricity is being installed at the Albany postoffice. The machine was ordered here recently by freight from the postoffice at Jefferson City, Mo. It is considered by postoffice employees to be greatly superior to the hand-operated cancelling machine formerly in use as it can cancel a great many more letters per minute and is similar to the machines used in the larger postoffices of the country.

Another recent improvement at the Albany postoffice is the installation of a telephone. The phone has been in use for several months and already has proved a great convenience to the patrons of the office.

LITTLE DOROTHY PATTERSON IS RECOVERING FROM BURNS

Clothing Became Ignited From Match. Flames Smothered by Neighbors.

Little Dorothy Patterson, 8 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Patterson, who was seriously burned Sunday afternoon when her clothing became ignited from a match, was reported much improved today.

The little girl was playing with a playmate, Billie Day, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Day, on Jackson street, at the time. In some manner the children had procured a match. After lighting a piece of paper, little Billie is said to have handed the match to the girl, who was waiting to light a second piece of paper.

PAVING MEN ARE HERE ON VISIT

LUND DECLARES SURETY COMPANY OFFICIAL VERY MUCH PLEASED.

Officials of the Southern Surety company are much pleased with the progress of the paving work in Albany. City Engineer Lund announced today. Mr. Lund, whose headquarters are in Little Rock, came here to meet several paving company officials during the week-end.

Dan McGugin and John Thompson, of Nashville, were here Tuesday to arrange for the laying of asphalt on the streets under construction. They represent the Thompson-Graham Paving Company.

Mr. Lund said: "Mr. Sykes, of the Southern Surety company, after inspecting the progress being made on the street construction, stated he was much pleased. Except for the fact that stone and sand were to be had on the ground here, work would, no doubt, have been delayed here as it has in many places, but this fact has enabled the work to go ahead in Albany. The car shortage, too, has been a big factor in slowness of work in many places."

INSPECTORS AND CLERKS APPOINTED

FINAL ARRANGEMENTS MADE BY CITY OF DECATUR FOR MUNICIPAL ELECTION.

Inspectors and clerks were named last night by the Decatur city council for the municipal election to be held on September 20. The inspectors and clerks are: D. D. Burleson, W. W. Fussell, Thomas F. Turley, inspectors; Rex Finley, J. Walter Clopton, clerks.

Ballots in the municipal election will be cast only at the city hall box. In general elections and primaries ballots are cast at both the city hall and courthouse boxes.

BOOSTERS DINE AT WREN, CONTINUE SECOND TRIP OF THE 1920 SERIES

Keeping Well to Schedule, Trade Evangels Touring Lawrence County.

WATERMELON FEAST AT KITCHEN'S MILL
Big Crowd Greeted the Visitors When Lawrence Capital Is Reached.

After a bountiful dinner at Wren, the Albany Boosters this afternoon continued their second trip of the 1920 series in Lawrence county.

The Boosters left Albany at 8:40 o'clock this morning and reached Slip Up, first stop for the day, at 9:10. They were greeted by a big crowd and following a band concert, a short address was delivered by Rev. W. P. Wilks. The Boosters left at 9:20 and arrived at Kitchen's Mill at 9:50, where a second big crowd welcomed the trade evangelists.

After the band concert and addresses by C. D. Patterson and E. C. Payne, a watermelon feast was given the visitors by the people of the Kitchen's Mill community.

During the drive between the Mill and Red Hill, the first automotive accident occurred, the car of the Alabama Water company having trouble with its drive shaft.

The Boosters reached Red Hill at 10:30. Judge W. T. Lowe, D. W. Speake, Secretary McDaniel and F. F. Tidwell made talks to the crowd and a quartette composed of Henry, Burr, Allison and Chennault gave several vocal selections.

The caravan pulled into Moulton at 11:30 and was greeted by one of the biggest crowds of the trip. They left at 11:45 after a band concert and a speech by Rev. Wilks. The noon stop for dinner was made at Wren.

The following cars are making the trip Tuesday: Speake, Echols and Speake, Malone, Coal, Grain and Motor company, Alabama Water company, Health Department, Patterson Mercantile company (2 cars), Dr. Grayson, Kelley and Houk (ice cream truck), Rountree Lumber company, R. E. Chandler, Alabama Power company, Southern Cotton Oil company, Morgan County National bank.

CONTEST ELECTION OF GEN. OBREGON

CARRANZA ADHERENTS CLAIM THAT REBEL CHIEF IS INELIGIBLE.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The constitutionality of the election of the new president of Mexico may be settled by appeal to American historical precedent and the citations of one of the framers of the constitution of the United States, it was reported in diplomatic circles here today.

The constitution of Mexico provides that no man shall be eligible to the presidency who has taken part directly or indirectly in any uprising, rebellion or coup d'etat against the legally constituted government.

Adherents of Carranza now in the United States have made effort to have Gen. Obregon's eligibility called into question on this provision when the Mexican Congress assembles to canvass the election returns and hear contests, it was learned here today.

Youth Accused of Taking Clothing

A young white man, giving his name as "Brown" and his age as 18, was taken into custody this morning by Officer Bates on a charge of taking a quantity of clothing from the Switchman's office near the Decatur station. A sweater, said to belong to Mr. Donaldson and a rain coat, said to belong to Mr. Harper, were recovered.

STRIKE BREAKERS ARE FIRED UPON

FIFTEEN MEN IN AUTOMOBILE ATTACK EAST N. Y. CAR BARN.

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Increased violence marked the ninth day of the Brooklyn railway traction strike. The worst disorders occurred when about 15 men in two automobiles opened fire upon the men's club rooms at the east New York car barns, where about 400 strike breakers are quartered. The attackers, the police say, were armed with automatic pistols, equipped with Maxim silencers. Police reserves were rushed to the scene and attackers fled, firing upon their pursuers. The police commandeered automobiles and gave chase, and a thrilling running fight developed.

SEEKING LOCATION FOR LARGE PLANT

Walter M. Grubbs, formerly editor of the Decatur News, but now a successful promoter, was here yesterday. He was accompanied by Col. Geo. H. Hobart, of Birmingham. These gentlemen were here in the interest of their company, which is seeking a location for a large manufacturing plant. They expressed themselves as favorably impressed with Albany, and will probably return at an early date and complete arrangements for establishing their plant here.

ANNISTON, Ala., Sept. 7.—Mary Belle Vinson, baby of Mr. and Mrs. James Vinson of this city, was crushed to death Monday afternoon about dark on the Eulation pike, about 4 miles west of Anniston, in a collision between a side-car motorcycle in which they were riding and a Ford car containing a negro driver and four white passengers, all said to be under the influence of whiskey.

Mrs. Vinson's right arm and right leg were broken and Mr. Vinson's right leg broken. They were under treatment in a local hospital today, and the body of their baby, who was killed the day it was 15 months old was buried at Eulation Tuesday afternoon.

ORGANIZED CRAFTS HAVE 5,000 GUESTS AT GREATEST LABOR DAY CELEBRATION

Parade Through the Business Districts is Met by Cheering Throngs.

ALMON IS THE PRINCIPAL SPEAKER OF THE DAY

Handsome Floats, Constructed by Local Men, Attract Much Attention.

(By J. E. BLAIR)

Perfect weather conditions with a minimum of dust owing to recent rains, made possible yesterday a full realization of the plans as laid for the Albany-Decatur celebration of Labor day by the 18 organized crafts of this community. Judge E. B. Almon, Congressman from the 8th district, who delivered the principal speech, as he did also last Labor day here, said that the crowd that heard him yesterday was twice as large as the one of last year. George M. Webb, the oldest labor worker in the cities said the celebration of yesterday far surpassed the one of last year, but that next year the day would be still "more largely celebrated."

Judge Almon, placed the number at the speaking at 3000, which added to the full number who "attended Labor day," made a grand total of 5000. The barbecue was pronounced by all as absolutely the best ever. It did not last long.

The Aviation field grove was the scene of rollicking activities from the moment Labor's mammoth parade dispersed there, after its long march from the Albany school grounds, through Albany, through Decatur, and thence back over Second avenue and 4th Avenue south to the Aviation grounds.

The parade got under way near 10:30 o'clock, and moved in perfect order throughout the entire course. The carmen of the shops, being a brotherhood of over 700, had the most men in line and manifested the most enthusiasm. The Farmer's Union marchers came in for much applause, as organized by D. H. Thrasher. The Machinist's union had a good quota of its membership in line wearing their uniforms of blue denim overalls, blue shirts, and white ties. They marched with such precision as to cause favorable comment. The only mishap of the whole parade was the bursting out of one end of the big drum, belonging to the band.

Gives Serenade.

The band had the advantage of the "fiddlers," as its players were active throughout the day, and their music proved very inspiring. As usual, "Dixie" proved the favorite air and never failed to bring cheers or approval. As a special mark of courtesy to the Albany-Decatur Daily, to whose generous support much of the success of "The Day" was attributed, Director Kopp paused long enough in front of the Daily building to strike up the old Southern air of "Dixie."

Program in Inverse Order.
Taking up the program in the opposite order to which it was rendered the last exercise was "Home, Sweet Home," as played by the band at the direction of President Gentry of the Central Labor Union, who acted as Master of Ceremonies during the speaking and musical program.

The band was composed of the following: Director Kopp, of the Cincinnati Symphony Club, Herman Safely, who was the chairman of the music committee for the labor unions, W. W. Rahm, Will Thompson, E. A. Henry, Baxter Hartung, A. C. Rundle, Adlai Spavin, Carl Lee, Herbert Hauk, C. G. Harvey, Felix Warren, Jesse Yarbrough and Alfred Feyersabend.

The awarding of the "Old Fiddler's" contest prizes, with the following results: First prize J. C. Glasscock, of Cullman County, Second prize A. W. Holliday. The other fiddling contestants were: W. A. Vantrees, Geo. W. Broadway, J. T. Morris, J. L. Prosser, J. F. Hallbrooks, Martin Smith and Mrs. E. J. Norris. The last named was in her 87th year, but sang and

A FAIR PRICE FOR THE COTTON CROP

The prosperity of the South is vitally linked with the proper marketing of the cotton crop. Unless a fair price is received the entire section is faced with financial stagnation. For this reason, the recent meeting of the American Cotton association at Montgomery was especially pertinent. The recommendations of the convention must be observed if calamity is to be averted.

With a determined clique of speculators and mill interests doing everything in their power to lower the price of the staple, and with the English buyers talking of 20 cent cotton, it is quite plain that the cotton grower must work out his own salvation. Like the Poles at Warsaw, he has his back to the wall and is called upon to display a resourcefulness that will foil the clever schemes of his inherent enemy—the price trimmer.

Statistics were produced at the Montgomery meeting to show that it costs 38½ cents a pound to grow cotton. These figures were compiled by experts. They should be accepted as authentic. They are not the haphazard guess of the one-horse farmer who is dull at figures, but are the scientific deductions of specialists. They include, of course, the full cost of labor, an adequate return upon the investment of the land owner, and all the many little things that are likely to be overlooked by the amateur when he attempts to find out just where he stands financially as a producer. Accepting these figures as their face value, the necessity for maintaining a 40 cent price for cotton is evident. And to maintain this price other recommendations of the American Cotton association must be observed. These relate to the construction of an ample supply of bonded warehouses and the withholding of at least 25 per cent of this year's crop from the early market.

The cotton farmer, if he is to attain financial independence, must give heed to the law of supply and demand. He must learn that if the crop is dumped on the market for what it will bring that it won't bring much. It will enhance in price only after it has passed from the possession of the grower. On the other hand, if a fixed price is demanded and if no cotton is sold at less than that price, eventually the buyer must come to terms. There is no question about that, for cotton is as much a monopoly as gasoline is now or kerosene once was.

How to hold cotton is the biggest problem of the South. The American Cotton association proposes to solve this riddle by the erection of bonded warehouses, on the receipts of which the owner of the staple can borrow such ready money as he needs to supply his pressing wants. The plan is very simple and very feasible. Its only weak link is lack of co-operation on the part of the growers. It is to secure this co-operation that unit of the American Cotton Association are to be formed in every beat of every county of every state in the Solid South. Each individual is a link in the chain, and each must do his part. Every farmer should affiliate with this organization, for only in union is there strength.

Those subpoenaed are: Charles McNider, Mason City, Iowa; C. W. McClure, Atlanta, Ga.; C. K. Mavity, Mason City, Iowa; C. W. Lee, Chicago; Henry E. Owens, Chicago; Fred W. Refley, Columbus, Ohio; Charles Fritzsche, Detroit; Reeves Schley, New York City, and C. C. Brainard, Washington, D. C.

Just In Passing

ALABAMA AND SUFFRAGE

"The antics of the Tennessee legislature have hurt the democratic party with the new women voters of the east and west," said a prominent Albany citizen. "I am not and never have been in favor of suffrage but I think it would be a wise political move for the Alabama legislature to ratify the Anthony amendment when it convenes this month in extra session. However, I hardly expect this to be done."

MAKE RETURN

"We are making arrangements looking to a return to Danville and Hodges Store," said F. F. Tidwell, president of the Albany chamber of commerce. "The Booster trip the first day was very successful, but we regret exceedingly that we were not able to reach Hodges Store with the majority of the party. The heavy rain interrupted our schedule. However, if our present plans work out, we will go to Hodges Store and to Danville for a several hours stop at each place."

Attending Chickens and Garden

"My neighbors are surprised to see me looking so well, for they thought I would not live to see summer. I had such pain around my heart as to cause me to faint. I knew it came from bloating and pressure of gas in my stomach. A friend in St. Louis told me to use Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and I now feel better than in all my life. I am doing my own work, attending to my chickens and my garden and have cleaned house. It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. ### Polish Front to Be Pierced, Report (International News Service) PARIS, Sept. 7.—The Polish front has been pierced in Galicia and General Wrangel's forces have been forced back, according to claims made in a Soviet war office communique wirelessly from Moscow today.

TO THE PUBLIC
To those who complimented me by petition to make the race for Mayor of Albany I desire to express my thanks, and to say I am deeply appreciative of the honor done me. Business and farm interests require my entire time, and it would be impossible for me to give the business of Albany the attention it requires, and for these reasons I am forced to decline.

Permit me to thank one and all for the confidence reposed in me.
Respectfully,

fiddled, "Run, Nigger Run, or the Patterdale Will Catch You," to the great interest of the listening throng. When Mrs. Forbes tried "Old Dan Tucker," she was not so successful and complained of the men that the violin was out of tune. Luther Charles, who had "picked" the banjo in fine style at the "barn dance," aided by Jim Prosser, sang a wild and rattling song to the great amusement of all.

The Family Contest

The family contest was conducted by George M. Webb, who had put up most of the prize money for this interesting test. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Murphree won first place with seven attractive little girls. Mr. and Mrs. Mack Murphree, with six children, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hendon, with six children and Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Smith with six children. The first two winners are of the machinists, and the last two of the Blacksmiths and Maintenance of the Way Crafts respectively. As the second prizes were tied, Mr. Webb, aided by a volunteer from the crowd, brought the prize money up to where each of the second prize-winners got $5.00 each.

List of Speakers

Prof. E. L. Hayes, concluded the formal speech making, in a stirring address in which he admonished that labor be not entangled again with an autocratic bondage, but to stand firm in the freedom that organization had given them. Melvin Hutson preceded Prof. Hayes, and made a telling speech, despite the lateness of the hour. Mr. Hutson demanded in no uncertain terms, that larger school facilities be given this community, saying that college educations ought to be available in Albany and Decatur. He also declared squarely for the Plumb Plan, as against the Cummings-Esch bill.

D. C. Jones had introduced the speaker and said that with the coming of women into their rights as citizens, that the "lying politicians" were doomed. Mr. Jones denounced Senator Underwood as "not being responsive to the needs of the state's laboring people."

J. E. Blair named W. R. McCluskey

as the official spokesman of labor for North Alabama, and declared that Mr. McCluskey was one of the "able and staunch home boys" who had been mentioned in the paper on Saturday as a Labor day speaker. The other, Sam E. Roper, had been called to Texas.

Mr. McCluskey made a very favorable impression and received much applause. He wrenched away from the two dominant parties, any praise they might claim for woman's suffrage being the law of the land, and showed from history that second only to woman's own efforts came the 20 odd years of work to enfranchise women by the "American Labor Movement." Mr. McCluskey drew forth merriest and applause when he said: "The Tennessee solons who came to Decatur to escape their duty to women acted as bad sports and were out of harmony with genuine Southern chivalry."

Auditorium and Temple

Mr. McCluskey came out strongly for the erection, as soon as practicable, of a new labor temple in the Twin Cities, sufficient to meet all the requirements of local organized labor. He denounced any attempt to limit the right of peaceable assembly, and said with eloquence that nothing short of the liberty that Patrick Henry said he would willingly die for was the kind labor was going to have. This speaker endorsed the Plumb Plan of Railroad management and said it would prevent all strikes, and hostility between labor and capital on the Railways.

President Dinsmore

C. M. Dinsmore, of Falkville, President of the State Farmer's Union, spoke at a great disadvantage as he was almost ill, due to hard campaign trips to Northern states. He said that he had, with other officials of the National Farmer's Union, recently addressed pointed questions to Candidates Harding and Cox. The speaker declared that it was significant that Harding seemed not to want to recognize the farmers as an organization, but only as individuals while Cox was just the opposite. He said Cox seemed much more appreciative of organized craftsmanship than Harding.

"I speak for the farmer's from a laborers standpoint," declared President Dinsmore, "and we like labor's purpose to leave at home such legislators as will not put stress on the needs of these two great producing classes."

Mr. Dinsmore denounced the middle men producers, as "bloated suckers," and said it was the aim of the farmers to soon eliminate this class and put them to actual productive labor, by sending the products of the farm direct to the tables of the consumers. Mr. Dinsmore spoke, at length in praise of the federal banking act as passed by Democrats, and indicated that the farmers' Union throughout the nation would support Governor Cox for President.

Mr. Dinsmore had been introduced by George M. Webb in a forceful address in which Mr. Webb said he had been supporting woman's suffrage for 28 years and asked who else present had so good a record. Mr. Webb complained that the seating capacity for the speaking was insufficient and should be more ample next year.

Introduces Almon

W. H. Wilson, marshal of the parade, and President of the L. & N. shops craft federation having been his near neighbor at Tusculum, was asked to introduce the chief speaker of the day, Judge E. B. Almon, which he did calling attention to the many excellent qualities of the distinguished visitor. Mr. Almon spoke at length, and in his usually rapid and forceful manner.

He drew the first big round of applause when he endorsed woman's right to equal suffrage with men.

The speaker declared that the Sheffield Nitrate plant was a certainty; he was strong for national aid for education, but under state direction and application. He said, speaking of the League of Nations, amid applause: "Without a League, we had the most destructive war of all time; why not try a league, now. It will be the crime of the age if it is not adopted."

Governor Cox was declared, amid applause, to have been endorsed by the American labor movement. Quotations were read from the national Democratic party declaring for the principle of labor organization and collective bargaining.

"I am not worried about the I. W. W's, the Reds and the Bolsheviks in the South; its almost 100% Anglo-Saxon blood, is a bar against such aims."

In a long discussion of the admirable workings of the federal banking system as set up by Wilson, Glass and McAdoo, Mr. Almon said $32,000,000 for war purposes was raised without the failure of a single bank, and that the Republicans dare not change the system, even if they had the chance.

Speaking of woman's right, he said: "Women will do the right thing at the right time. They will put liquor beyond the possibility of a return. They will help to purify politics. They will have better representatives and better laws."

It was declared that the war was won "two or three years earlier" by the intervention of America and the valor of her heroic sons. Much of his speech was consumed in showing the debt forever due the defenders of our liberties against absolute autocracy. Organized labor was declared to be "for honest effort and an honest day's work." The need of increased production was stressed. It was declared by the speaker that with Gov. Cox, he did not wish "to return to the old normal times of the past, of low wages and autocratic rule." In the outset of his address Judge Almon said "Labor is to have just as much to do with the new world conditions we are to establish as any other class."

The invocation was by Dr. L. F. Goodwin, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church, who preceded it with an earnest plea that God be not left out of the plans of Labor.

At no time in the past have the labor people "done their own work" so to speak on a labor day celebration, and the rank and file of the crafts are loud in their praise for the work done without money or price, by those of their number who "put on" this year's celebration, and did all the work from cooking the barbecue and serving it, to managing the contests, the music, the speaking and the parade, with little thought for themselves.

The following is the list of prize winners among the young ladies who helped in the sale of refreshments:

First prize: Miss Florence Su Worley.
Second prize: Ethel May Hatchett.
Third prize: Miss Mary Fisher.
Fourth prize: Miss Cora Ross.
Craft Float prizes:
First prize: Sheet Metal Workers Union.
Second prize: Railway Carmen's Union.

The farmer's union float, loaded down with fruits of the field, vine and tree was given a royal welcome all along the march.

For the purpose of winding up further details of the celebration President Gentry has called a meeting of the Central Labor Union for next Monday night at 7:30.

HEL-LO-o-o PETE:

In two more shakes of a lamb's tail I'd have been between the sheets—but I got taken with another large idea for Camel Cigarette ads that's so bright you can phone 'em to cut the current because you just had your lamps lit!

Tell you, it's a whale of a stunt! Everybody right quiet—and hats off! NOW—far as I know or ever heard, there never has been one of those zippy slogans under that big display name "Camel". I'VE GOT ONE—get me? Put both your ears close to the ground and get the rumble of a broadside like this:

Camel

Once it meant an animal—
now a Cigarette!

Wow, Pete! I'll testify that's a stoneless peach! Spread it like I've denied it in here—and you've uncorked an eyeful! Suppose you'll want to call me old Mr. Hammer because I hit the nail on the head!

And, bet real money that if this slogan stuff keeps me awake the rest of the night, I'll wire and offer it to R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. before you hit the deck! And, I'll be spending some of the proceeds for noon eats! In the "lang-wage" of Jigger Jones of Joplin, "you tell 'em old yacht, you've got the sales spirit!"

Blowing out of St. Louis at 10.12 tomorrow with a bundle of business. Off for Ohio. Got something on me mind!

Till I get it off—

Ex-TRY! Ex-TRY!

Shorty.

Just got a wire, I saw 'em that slogan!
Put on me! S.

Georgia Lady, Worn-out and Tired, Tells How She Was Helped by Ziron Iron Tonic.

Her personal experience of Mrs. Nannie Phillips, of Powder Springs, Ga., is printed below in her own words:

"I was in a worn-out condition. My stomach was out of order. I didn't sleep well. I was tired all the time. I couldn't half eat, and didn't rest well at night.

"I would get out of heart and blue. I would feel like I was going to be down in bed. Yet I kept dragging around.

"We heard of Ziron, and from what I read, I was sure it wouldn't hurt me, if it didn't help me. But after taking it, I found it really helped me, and I sent back for more. I ate better, felt much stronger. I am sure Ziron is a splendid tonic."

Many people, who are worn down and disheartened, due to stomach disorders and nervous ills, find relief by toning up their blood with Ziron Iron Tonic. Tell your druggist you want to try Ziron on our money-back guarantee.

WIFE ASSERTS SEER STOLE HER SOUL

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Can a soul be stolen. Mrs. Laura Brook Elwanger-Kenilworth, former wife of "Zozo," who for years enjoyed extensive patronage as a society seer among the sets of Manhattan, New-point and Atlantic City, declares that it can. She says:

"My former husband, 'Zozo,' called a few weeks ago for France, where he has a luxurious villa. My soul went with him. Again and again I have pleaded with him to return that which he stole—my astral spirit. He even stole my dreams and so controls my actions that I never dream unless merist, endeavoring to respond to the suggestions that her soul had been returned.

Rub-My-Tism is a great pain killer. It relieves pain and soreness caused by Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sprains, etc. (Adv.)

Characterizing herself as broken in health and spirit, she narrated her psychic history to a reporter in an interview at an uptown hotel, where she maintains a suite.

"I am forty-two years old. Kenilworth is forty-five, large and handsome. I was married to him November 21, 1918. We were husband and wife for a year and eight months. Immediately after the ceremony he announced his intention of dominating his command, and then only to see a vision of him commanding life to do his weird dictates."

"Zozo" is Walter Winston Kenilworth, stargazer and reader of wealthy palms.

His wife has spent a large personal fortune, she says, in dispensing fees to world-famous mental analysts, psychologists and neurologists in a fruitless campaign in quest of her "stolen" soul. Only a few months ago she submitted to hypnotic treatment at the hands of a noted mesmerist completely. He would sit every day at a stated time and concentrate on this unusual thing. It took him seven months to accomplish the theft of my soul. From then until now life has held nothing in store for me.

"I procured a divorce on the ground of cruelty, for what is more cruel than the theft of a woman's soul? Of course it would have appeared ridiculous to a court to say that my soul had been stolen, so I took other examples of his mental cruelty for my action. Kenilworth was known in private life as Walter K. Martin. He had an establishment at Atlantic City and others at Newport, in New York City and in Paris.

"He is a man of dominant will-power and has a magnetic personality that causes people to fall at his feet when he wills it. He held the palms of rich old ladies and read from them, apparently, for the rich old ladies wouldn't understand Kenilworth if he told them he was peering into their astral spirits. Thus humoring them, his income was and is not less than $100 a day, and many of the rich old ladies have been eager to hurl their fortunes and their love at him.

"Yet, as much money as he made and as many opportunities as he must have had to dupe these doting old ladies of fashion and wealth, I never knew him to take a penny dishonestly. All he wanted was to steal souls, not mere money."

"He said that was vulgar. When I asked him by what right he stole my soul, he answered:

"There, there, my dear, I am doing it by right of intellect. You have a suburban intellect. I am a genius."

"On several occasions I have gone to an apartment at Kenilworth's psychic command, rented it and paid deposits. The very next day, under the control of that man's sinister mind, I would leave my deposits go and take up a room or suite in a hotel. One day I had a consuming desire for oranges. I ate eighteen of them. Later I heard Kenilworth laughingly remark that he had been standing at an orange dealer's near his Atlantic City establishment and merely had exercised his control through vanity."

"At that time I was in Philadelphia, which shows the sheer force of his will. He has made me suspicious of my relatives and friends, and I often suffer a delusion that food served me has been poisoned."

"My last vision, commanded by Kenilworth, showed me the man embarking for Europe. Across his breast was a placard which read: 'Commit suicide!'"

Dr. J. Richardson Parke, neurological expert, of Philadelphia, consulted by Mrs. Ellwanger-Kenilworth, gave as his opinion:

"Until her marriage to Mr. Kenilworth three was nothing in her condition to warrant apprehension, although the marriage itself was entered into against my counsel and professional advice. My fears were not groundless."

"Almost immediately after her marriage there ensued a period of relapse, together with other and more serious symptoms of a highly unfavorable character, denoting to the skilled psychologist domination of the patient by a far stronger and more aggressive psychic personality than herself."

New York has one hotel whose kitchens cover an acre.

INVENTIVE GENIUS MAKES CALOMEL DELIGHTFUL

Calomel, the Most Valuable of Drugs, Now Purified From Its Nausea and Danger—"Calotabs" the New Name

The medicinal virtues of calomel are in no way connected with its nauseating and dangerous qualities, as is proven by the fact that the new calomel tablet, called Calotabs, is free from objectionable effects yet retains all of the liver-cleansing and system-purifying qualities of the old-style calomel. For biliousness, headaches, constipation and indigestion, and wherever calomel is essential, the new de-nauseated calomel tablet is a practically perfect laxative.

To inspire public confidence in this new discovery the manufacturers have authorized druggists everywhere to refund the price if the customer is not "perfectly delighted" with Calotabs. Sold only in original packages, sealed. Price thirty five cents. One tablet at bed-time, with a swallow of water. No taste, no nausea, no griping, no salts. You wake up in the morning with a clean liver, feeling fine, and a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please, no danger.—Advertisement.

Merely putting a Heavy Truck on Air is Not Enough

NOT all pneumatic-tired trucks are delivering economy.

Some owners would have found it cheaper to stick to solid tires than to run on pneumatics not built to meet trucking conditions.

Merely putting a heavy truck on air is not enough.

The air has got to be contained in something—in something stronger than the ordinary pneumatic tire.

We don't recommend pneumatics for all truck uses.

But where we do recommend them, we recommend U. S. Nobby Cords—truck pneumatics built to meet trucking conditions—with side walls bulwarked, flaps moulded, breaker strips multiplied and cords positively anchored around the bead wires—features that give U. S. Nobby Cords the exclusive position they occupy today.

The Facts of the Telephone Situation in Alabama

By J. EPPS BROWN, President.

SOUTHERN BELL TELEPHONE & TELEGRAPH CO.

Other Increased Costs of Operation

Coincident with the increase in the cost of labor, as shown in the Company's wage bill, the cost of all telephone material and equipment has steadily increased.

The advance in telephone material prices is shown by the following partial list of the principal units of a telephone plant:

	1914	1920	Per Cent of Inc.
1 30-ft. Class C Chestnut Pole	$ 5.70	$ 13.50	137
1 30-ft. Class GP Pole	10.55	19.00	80
1 Cct. Ml. No. 12 Iron Wire	28.79	70.20	144
1 Cct. Ml. No. 12 Copper Wire	83.90	160.00	91
1000 ft. 100 pr. 22 Ga. Aerial Cable	389.30	597.64	54
1000 ft. 600 pr. 22 Ga. U. G. Cable	1349.44	1,792.35	33
100 ft. 4-duet Single Clay Conduit installed under Asphalt Pavement	193.82	328.48	69
1 subscriber's Drop installed	4.83	7.00	45
1 subscriber's Station installed wall set	13.90	19.80	42
1 subscriber's station installed desk set	15.41	22.36	45
1 section No. 1 subscriber's Sw b'd installed	7430.00	17,140.00	131
1 section No. 1 Toll Switchboard installed	1984.00	5,240.00	164
Buildings per cubic foot	.26	.50	92

Today the average price of all plant material is more than 97 per cent higher than in 1914.

There is no present indication that these prices will be lower.

The combined effect of the increase in its wage bill, and the prices of material, means that it costs the Company more than $2.00 to construct, maintain and operate the same amount of plant that formerly cost $1.00.

The cost of construction concerns the owners of the property, being paid for out of the capital account of the Company.

The cost of replacement of the present plant concerns the owners of the property, being paid for out of the replacement reserve fund.

Practically all of this fund was created upon a basis of pre-war costs. Present-day costs make it inadequate, so that it must be supplemented by new capital when replacements are made at present-day costs.

The cost of the daily, current maintenance of the plant concerns the telephone user, being an expense of operation, paid for out of the earnings of the Company at current labor and material costs.

Annual contributions to the replacement fund for the plant constructed today and tomorrow, concerns the telephone user, being an expense of operation, paid for out of the earnings of the Company, based upon the costs of labor and material when the plant is constructed.

The gross earnings of the Company must be sufficient for the daily, current operation and maintenance of the plant, and to create an adequate replacement fund to replace the plant at the end of its service life.

In no other way can efficient and continuous service be had by the public, or the property of the owners be protected.

The next advertisement will show the effect of these increased costs of labor and material upon the Company's operations during the past four years.

CAPITAL NOT A BIT EXCITED OVER PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION

Washington Has Drifted Away from Politics, and Nothing Short of a Political Earthquake Can Make It "Sit Up and Take Notice."

By William Philip Simms,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Perhaps it's the dog days. Perhaps it's because the price of sugar has fallen. Perhaps jitters around the country and catching the breezes thus created is more enticing. But whatever it is that lies behind it, the capital of your country is not in the least excited over the Presidential election down on the calendar for next November.

It isn't that this political centre has "drifted away" from Senator Harding. It isn't that it has drifted away from Governor Cox. It has simply drifted away from politics and nothing less than a political earthquake could make it focus its attention on the details of the present.

Of course, Washington is passing through an unusual period just now. For years it had a war on its hands and within its gates were hundreds of thousands of transients—war workers, visiting missions from foreign lands; a diplomatic corps many times larger than at present and all working like mad; business men of all nations, and, lastly, our own legislative and executive branches of government going full swing.

Now Congress is in recess. It frequently happens that a solitary Senator and a couple of Representatives are about all the members of Congress to be seen, marching down the otherwise deserted corridors, of the Capitol and office buildings, making the walls echo with the clatter of heels on marble floors. And few are the diplomats now on the scene.

The war workers are gradually disappearing—some going to jobs in other cities, some going back to their home towns. Foreign missions have ended their tasks and gone, and as most of the business men who came here on war business they, too, are now few in number.

So after years of intense excitement and furious work, the war over and victory won, Washington feels it has earned a rest. And it is resting.

Politics? It is tired of politics. War? It hates war. It wants to talk some stuff for a while, and it is doing it. The various home brews are good or an evening's conversation any time.

Still there's one thing the capital is interested in. And that is the President's afternoon rides. These have come to be an institution here and the folks know of the First Citizen as he leaves the White House grounds or returns thereto.

After the heat of the afternoon is past and the shadows begin to lengthen, to fall thwart the circling drives about the White House, a nurse of two, pushing their youngster laden rams before them, arrive at the gate through which President Wilson is expected to exit. A few minutes later a boy or so stroll up and seat themselves on the coping stop which rests he grills of the enclosure. A seedy-looking man or two now join the little band, and thus, slowly, the crowd collects. An automobile draws up not far from the gate after a while, then another and another, until the trees are pretty well lined with vehicles and more and more people take their stand as near the gate as possible and watch for the official car or arriage to make its appearance.

Finally it arrives at the gate. There is a minute of excitement and stir in the crowd; a craning of necks and a lot of murmuring:

"There he is!"

"He looks real well!"

"He doesn't look very well!"

"Isn't his smile sad!"

"I don't think he looks very sick."

And so on. You know. Everybody seeing the President and saying what he (everybody) thinks with his usual inconsistencies.

Then, when the President, lifting his hat and bowing, passes out of sight down the street, the crowd breaks up suddenly, much more suddenly than it formed, and in a few minutes only a handful of people are left behind. These few, not satisfied with one look, intend to stay where they are until the President comes back so they can see him again. An hour or so later they form the nucleus of the second jam, like the first, who await the return of the nation's chief executive. Only this time, instead of facing the White House grounds and the gate thereto, they keep vigil, their faces turned in the opposite direction.

Politics? Folks are not interested in 'em here. Perhaps interest may be kindled later on, but even the spark of it will be hard to find.

Occasional attacks of backache, irregular urination, headaches and dizzy spells are frequent symptoms of kidney disorders. It's an error to neglect these ills. The attacks may pass off for a time but generally return with greater intensity. Don't delay a minute. Begin taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and keep up their use until the desired results are obtained. Good work in Albany proves the effectiveness of this great kidney remedy.

L. C. Harrison, cashier, Churchhill Company, 451 Grant St., Albany, says: "I have found Doan's Kidney Pills to be a very satisfactory medicine and I am glad of the opportunity to endorse them. I had been suffering from a lame and painful back for some time and my kidneys acted irregularly, too. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills being so good and I got a box and used them as directed. In a short time they entirely rid me of the trouble."
